The Kansas City - St. Joseph corridor, on both sides of the state line, has so many historical resources it is sometimes difficult for families and individuals to keep track of all that's happening.

WindingRiver.com provides museums, historical sites, re-enactment groups, historical societies and associations the opportunity to be listed in our Directories and have historical events listed in our Calendar of Events . . .

Absolutely Free.

And, all listings include a free link to your website for additional information.

We have expanded our Directories and Calendars to include information on facilities and groups promoting the preservation and educating the public about our natural resources. Directories include area conservation and nature centers as well as parks and other venues providing educational opportunities related to the history of our natural resources.

We need your help . . .

- Send us notices of your upcoming events by postal mail, e-mail or fax.
- Check our Directories to be sure your facility or organization is listed in the appropriate Directory, including a 50 - 80 word description in most Directories.
